desirable to revive Inams once resumed. Ramayagonda and other memorialists pray for a reconsideration of the foregoing order for the following reasons.-

1 That they have repaired the temple on a large outlay;

2 That they are prepared to pay up the purchase money to the present holders, who are also willing to get back these lands to the temples.

3 That the temples may not be caused to suffer owing to the neglect of the Ryots in having accumulated arrears ~~these~~ of Jodi thereon, which endueed the Govt to resume the lands.

4 That instances are not wanting, where Govt have temporarily resumed the Inams and restored them after the Renovation of the temples re concerned.

5½ The annual value of the inam is 6Rs 13 As. One of the fields was sold for arrears of jodi and the other resigned as they have been given away in occupation as unalienated lands some 20 years. Both the late Dewan & the present 1st Cr Considered it not good Policy to give inams back in such cases. The temples serve communal needs & the small contribution of about 1Rs 6½ As a month by deduction from assessment does not seem to be by any means either extravagant or improper. If the Dewan agrees, the order may be revised. If however it is considered inexpedient to reopen the matter, the Papers may be so informed.

-paid to by (1) the Wajees restoring the dilapidated temple and removing encroachment in it – (2) the Wajees keeping the price demanded by the present occupants of the land & (3) the occupants of the land themselves agreeing to price it up –

We know from experience how communal institutions like the one in question are allowed to deteriorate by local factions &c. Rather than assume the income in such cases the course often adopted has been to put out the land compulsorily on full assessment to avert the assessment to mis-cellaneous revenue – Such a course could & ought to have been adopted in the present case –

The restoration of the Inamdar & of the land to the temple may be sanctioned

These papers relate to the question of the restoration of certain resumed inam lands originally endowed to the Tirumaladevaru and Rameswara temples in Bikkenane village of the Chikmagalur Taluk.

2. The facts of the case briefly stated are as follows. Lands as per details in the margin, were originally assigned as Inam to the Tirumaladevaru and Rameswara temples respectively. Survey No.74 was forfeited and sold for arrears of Jodi due thereon for the year 1882-83, but no bids having been received, it was resumed to Government. It was subsequently obtained on Durkhast by one Karia in 1886-87, by whom it was sold for Rs.70 to one Mahomed Yacoob Saib, who continues in possession. Similarly, Survey No.77 was relinquished by the cultivator Yale Mallappa in 1884-85. It was applied for and obtained by one Gowda under the Durkhast rules for Rs.13 in 1887-88, and continues in his possession.

3. The villagers pleaded that they had suffered loss owing to puja service not being rendered, and applied for the restoration of the Inam lands to the respective temples; but, the then Second Councillor (Mr. K.P. Puttanna Chetty) and the late Dewan (Mr. Madhava Rao) did not think it desirable to revive inams once resumed and orders were issued accordingly in Government Proceedings No.4220-7 dated 28th March 1908.

4. The villagers have memorialised His Highness the Maharaja for a reconsideration of this order, and this memorial has been referred to the Muzrai Branch for disposal. The villagers represent that they have repaired the temple at a large outlay, that puja is being conducted therein and that they are prepared to pay the purchase money to the present holders who are also willing to restore the lands to the temples.

Encl 1 H.S

(illegible)

5. The Second Councillor is in favour of the order already passed being revised. For the reasons recorded by me in my note of 30th December 1909, I am also of opinion that the restoration of the Inam tenure and of the lands to the temples may be sanctioned.

6. The First Councillor having been consulted in the matter states that he has no particular objection in this case, because the owners of the lands agree to give them up, and adds that the question involved is however one of principle and any orders passed in this case would serve as a precedent for future cases.

7. I submit the matter for orders, as the action proposed to be taken involves the modification of an order approved by the late Dewan.

8. It may be noted that the price payable to the present holders of the lands in question has already been recovered and deposited in the Treasury.
